THE BOY'S CHANCE

Sitting at the dedication exercises of the new agricultural building at the Appomattox high school last Thursday night, the writer, could not refrain from meditating upon the wonderful opportunity ahead of the high school boy of 1932. The problems ahead of the present generation are as challenging as those which confronting the pioneers of generations ago, and to solve those problems we are sending out what should be the best equipped generation the world has ever known. The tools of knowledge and experience and initiative, they must supplement with a sense of responsibility, a code of ethics, character of nobility and integrity, and the faith and courage of Virginia gentlemen. Here's a toast to the boy of 1932 and his chance.

BYRD OR ROOSEVELT

Victories in the first three state preferential primaries in which his strength was tested, have placed the name of Franklin Roosevelt, of New York, in the forefront for the Democratic nomination. At the same time, the Garner boom has subsided for two reasons: defeat of his leadership in Congress on the sales tax issue, and defeat of delegates pledged to him in Georgia. In the same manner, Governor Bill Murry, of Oklahoma, has had his day as a blossoming candidate and faded by virtue of two defeats in state primaries.

The Times-Virginian believes that the Democratic nominee will be either Franklin Roosevelt or Harry Flood Byrd.

Gardner is a great leader, but lacks the dynamic personality needed for a campaign swing over the nation. Richie of Maryland has the fire of conviction, but is much a duplicate of Al Smith. Smith, himself, is still the hero of millions of voters, but cannot get the nomination. Baker is a brilliant statesman, but will not campaign for the office. Gardner and Murry are on the wane as candidates. It must be Roosevelt or Byrd.

Without discussing at this time, the candidacy of Roosevelt, let us mention a few facts about Harry Flood Byrd.

He is farmer and so was Washington, the first president Virginia gave the nation. He is a business man, who has succeeded in every business venture made and he has been making them since he took over a small weekly newspaper when he was only 14 year old. He is a newspaper publisher now, being publisher of the Winchester Evening Star. The combination of farmer, business man and editor is unbeatable for a public career. Politically, as state senator from 1915 to 1923, as chairman of the State Democratic Committee, as Governor and as vice-chairman of the national Democratic Committee, his achievements have been of the calibre which commands the attention of the nation.

There is magic in the name and career of Harry Flood Byrd that would sweep the nation at the polls. At a period when leadership is at a premium, Virginia now offers to the country a brilliant successor to the presidents she has offered before: Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Monroe. Support Byrd and help rebuild American prosperity and the traditional ideals of the Democratic party.

Father DARKLEAF'S Column

BY C.H.R.

A word about Frank Spencer, of Buckingham, and his snakes. Frank has the skin of a 7-foot rattler hanging up in his store. It was killed by a relative in Florida. And then he has a 2-foot horn snake in an alcohol jar. Its tail looks like the spur of a rooster.

• • •

Col. Joel Flood and Senator Ferguson are planning to attend the Democratic Convention in Chicago (Joel may go in a plane) . . . story of a former Buckingham officer who kept three gallons of good liquor in a charred keg for 17 years before it was opened . . . the Rev. E. I. Lewis graduated from college the same year that Father Darkleaf did (he went to Randolph-Macon and Emory) . . . . Principal Connor of the Oakville school, is a William and Mary Alumnus . . . let Walter Scott tell you about his days of playing football at New York U . . . they say Tad Sears really can pound a tennis ball.

Get the spirit of Spring cleaning. It makes the ladies want to move the furniture around, have rugs beaten, wash windows, plant flowers and varnish up. It makes men dig up the garden, build fences, build walks, rehaul the outbuildings. Merchants should have the side walks in front of their shops swept every morning, clean up their counters and freshen up the appearance of their stocks.

• • •

By the way, there is a story of how Joel once smeared Bradley Babcock's doorknob with cheese. And Herbert Pulliam can tell interesting recollections from his experiences working in Senator Ferguson's office. And A. H. Clement used to drive horse and buggy to attend Buckingham court, stopping overnight at the Lewis' at Toga.

COMMENTS ON CURRENT NEWS

(By Julien D. Martin, New Canton, Va.)

Roosevelt Wins in Georgia Primary

In a special election held the last of the past week Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic Governor of New York, was leading the ticket at a late hour. Roosevelt is winning popularity, but many old politicians indicate that another will head the ticket in November. The writer believes that a Roosevelt—Byrd ticket would be a same one. The South is 'sold on Byrd' and Roosevelt could carry the North and a portion of the West, thus assuring a much sounder ticket than that selected in 1928 by the "Donkey Party."

Sales Tax Out in House Fight

From Washington comes the word that the Sales Tax was rejected by the House of Representatives. The fight was led by Representative La-Guardia, N. Y., and Chairman Crist. President Hoover is reported as disappointed by the rejection of the proposed tax. The wets claim that a "showdown" on the proposed beer measure will have to be made to balance the deficit in the budget. The drys say "no" and only time will tell about the moisture of the two branches of Congress. Moist, we mean, by their voting.

Easter Has Passed

To one viewing fashionable Fifth Avenue, New York, society last Sunday morning little thought would have occurred of the suffering thousands throughout the United States. Fashionable ladies and their gayly dressed escorts paraded the famous "peacock walk" in all of the larger cities. At the same time an appeal was sent out by Senator Burton K. Wheeler, of Montana, asking for farm relief aiding, "the "our most unpopular amendment to the Constitution" (the 18th.), and his selection will have great weight with the "wet Republican sentiment" who does not appreciate President Hoover's stand on the 'Noble Experiment.'

Middlewest are on the verge of revolt."

Anderson Boomed as Hoover's Running Mate

Friends and admirers of Colonel Henry W. Anderson, nationally famous lawyer of Richmond, Va., are urging him to accept the nomination, (if offered) of candidate for the vice-presidency on the Republican ticket. Colonel Anderson is understood to be kindly disposed toward the repeal of

PAINS QUIT COMING

"When I was a girl, I suffered periodically with terrible pains in my back and sides. Often I would bend almost double with the intense pain. This would last for hours and I could get no relief.

"I tried almost everything that was recommended to me, but found nothing that would help until I began taking Cardui. My mother thought it would be good for me, so she got a bottle of Cardui and started me taking it. I soon improved. The bad spells quit coming. I was soon in normal health."
